Comment Of The Day

CHOPSTICKS FORSOOTH

LAST Friday's news that exports of Hongkong cutlery had outraged British and European manufacturers might have been something for this Colony to be proud about, if such an enterprising, forceful and prolific industry had suddenly emerged from behind the haze of Tsun Wan, Kun Tong, or the backstreets of Kowloon. But the fact is, there is no cutlery industry here to speak of, and the comments made by such an apparently responsible person as the President of the Sheffield Cutlery Manufacturers Association, Mr. R. Viner, have come as a surprise to this Colony.

Hongkong's exports, including re-exports for the whole of last year of table and kitchenware were a little more than $1 million. If all this went to the United Kingdom and Europe there might be some cause for comment but Hongkong sent only $120 worth of knives, forks and spoons to Britain and $216 worth to Sweden. True Hongkong last year exported $128,000 or 28,050 worth of heavy knives, choppers and scissors to Britain but even that is a drop in the bucket compared with Britain's own output and imports, and surely does not justify Mr. Viner's criticisms.

The Colony does import cutlery in the form of blanks from Japan—more than half a million dollars' worth in the first five months this year. Here they are finished and polished. But there is no secret about this. Certificates of origin are in some cases granted—but not by Government—and these stipulate the processes undertaken in Hongkong. Since this processed cutlery does not qualify for Imperial Preference anyway, what is the objection to its re-export to Britain?

If there is any firm actually stamping knives, forks and spoons in Hongkong its output is hardly likely to shake the giants of Sheffield and the Continent, any more than the exports of Hongkong processed cutlery can. Reference is made by Mr. Viner to an American manufacturer planning to begin production here. Naturally he will be welcome if he comes. But there is no sign of his factory yet. Or the imports of Chinese steel which he is expected to process.

WHAT other kind of cutlery does Hongkong go in for? A distinctive type of Siamese-bronze ware with horn handles. A lot of it—in fact a quarter of our total exports in 1957—goes to Thailand. That completes the picture of our industry. One outstanding point: the value of exports did jump five times between 1957 and 1958 but this was due to higher exports to Britain or Europe, but to the United States.

Hongkong would be proud to own a flourishing cutlery industry—and, naturally pleased if it made its contribution towards correcting the imbalance in Hongkong-United Kingdom trade, heavily in favour of Britain at present. But this seems to be one occasion when Britain has given us credit which we do not really deserve. Unless, of course, Mr. Viner is not thinking of cutlery but its Hongkong equivalent. But then the chopstick industry is another story altogether.

HK TOURIST ASSOCIATION EXPENDITURE DEFENDED

Completely Proper, Says Mr Knowles

The Chairman of the Hongkong Tourist Association, Mr W. C. G. Knowles said today that items of the Association's expenditure questioned at last week's annual meeting had been reviewed and found to be "completely proper".

High China Post: For Fuchs?

Rome, July 22. Atomic spy-scientist Klaus Fuchs, recently freed from a British prison, will likely be given an important atomic job in China at the end of a freshening up course in Russian labs, an Italian agency specialising in Iron Curtain news reported today.—UPI.

ARMED YOUTH SHOT DEAD

New York, July 22. An off-duty policeman shot and killed a teenage boy tonight moments after the boy fired a sawed-off shotgun at a crowd of children at play, wounding six persons.

Police said patrolman Walter Downes caught the youth, identified a 16-year-old Carl Rosario, when Rosario pointed the weapon at him.

The young gunman was believed to have a mental record, police said.—UPI.

Nixon Flies To See Khrushchev

Friendship Airport, Maryland, July 22. Vice-President Richard M. Nixon flew to Moscow tonight with instructions from President Eisenhower to try to convince Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev of the true "temper and feelings of the American people."

Nixon, pledging to do the best he could to correct any Soviet misapprehensions or any mis-calculation about this country, departed aboard a huge Air Force D-137 jet transport which represented the latest word in luxury air travel.

A three-man Russian crew was aboard the 124-ton plane to assist the American crew with communications and navigation on the last leg of the great circle flight to the Russian capital. The plane was scheduled to make one stop—at Reikavik Air Base, Iceland, to refuel.

Nixon left undisturbed by a flurry of sharp Russian propaganda attacks against the United States that built up just

Thank You Very Much!

'May Heaven Bless You For This'

ONE hundred and fifty widows in Saikung and its off-shore islands were presented with 20 chickens each this morning as a means of improving their living standards.

The 3,000 fowls were given by the Kadoorie Agricultural Aid Association which has given away more than 20,000 chickens since 1958 to aged women with little means of livelihood.

In terms of hard cash, the chickens given away by the Association this morning were worth more than $20,000.

The presentation was made soon after 9 a.m.

Many of the old women thanked Mr Kadoorie for his present.

One said: "Thank you very much, master. You are a good man."

Another said with a big smile: "Thank you, thank you. May heaven bless you for this."

An official of the Kadoorie Agricultural Aid Association, said that since 1957, the Association had presented to 4,000 widows in the New Territories 20,000 chickens, 10,000 pigs and 1,100 cows to stock their meagre holdings.

Miss England Favourite For Miss Universe

Long Beach, July 22. Miss England, 21-year-old Pamela Anne Searle, of Morden, Surrey, has become one of the favourites for the Miss Universe contest here after her selection last night as "the most photogenic contestant."

The five-foot seven-inch brunette received a standing ovation from the audience of 3,500 people as she accepted the award, which was voted by newspaper photographers here.

Miss Searle said in response: "I had a bottle of champagne and a glass. I would toast the photographers who picked me."

Although results in recent years have tended to make the unofficial pre-contest victories "consolation prizes," opinion here generally gives Miss Searle a good chance in the final judging on Friday.—Reuters.

RUMOURS ON 'THIRD CHILD' ARE DENIED

Regina, Sask., July 22. A spokesman for the Queen tonight denied ever-increasing reports that she is expecting her third child.

The announcement by the Assistant Press Secretary, Mr Esmond Butler, followed reports published in Europe that the illness that forced her to take two days off from her tour of the Yukon was really the result of her being pregnant.

Mr Butler said he was authorised by Surgeon-Captain D. D. Steele-Perkins to state that French reports that the Queen was pregnant were absolute nonsense.

LOOKED FIT

The Queen today looked exceptionally fit. She showed no signs of the illness that left her almost haggard and pale for three days in Whitehorse, as she continued her whistle-stop tour of Canada's wheat province.

Butler issued the statement as the Royal couple prepared to spend the night aboard the train which has become the royal home on the rails since the start of the 45-day 15,000 mile tour.

The Queen and Prince Philip were scheduled to spend five hours in the Alberta capital tomorrow.

Earlier at Saskatoon, the two-hour visit was highlighted by the official opening of the Queen Elizabeth Power Station and a tour of the University of Saskatchewan.—UPI.

Arms Banned In Iraq

Beirut, July 22. Radio Baghdad broadcast today a proclamation banning persons from carrying firearms in Iraq.

The proclamation, signed by the Iraqi military governor, empowered the army, police and various security forces to search any person suspected of carrying firearms.—UPI.

TANKER ON FIRE AFTER COLLISION

Tokyo, July 23. A German tanker caught fire today after colliding with a Japanese freighter in a heavy fog and a battle was being waged to save the tanker.

Katherine Cheuk Sent To Another PI Gao

Pasay City, July 22. A Philippine court today ordered the transfer of former Hongkong flight stewardess Katherine Cheuk from the city gao here to the correctional institution for women in nearby Mandaluyong Town.

Judge Angel Mojica, who sentenced Katherine Cheuk to two months' imprisonment for attempted smuggling of US$55,000 last June today cancelled an order committing her to the Pasay City gao.

Katherine Cheuk was arrested by agents of the National Bureau of Investigation and customs authorities while about to board her plane at the Manila International airport on March 20.

CRITICISED

After she was sentenced, she was confined at the air-conditioned office of police chief Benito Pineda. The Philippine press criticised the alleged preferential treatment given her by police.

Pineda defended her confinement in his office saying that she had been threatened with death by members of a syndicate dealing in the smuggling of dollars.—UPI.

Thirty of the vessel's estimated 51 crew members jumped into the sea to escape the flames and were picked up safely by rescue vessels. The remainder of the crew stayed aboard to fight the blaze.

A Gash

Coast Guard headquarters said the 10,000-ton tanker Helmenitz collided with the 6,000-ton Japanese freighter eight miles off Daiozaki point on the coast of central Honshu, Japan's largest island.

The Sotoku Maru suffered a gash in its bow but was able to navigate. There were no injuries to its 40 crew members.

It was not known exactly how many crew members were aboard the Helmenitz, but they were estimated at 51.

Firefighters brought the flames under control but the flames later roared out of control again.

Standing By

The Japanese coast guard patrol boat Hamachidori was standing by to aid in firefighting and to take off remaining German crew members if there were any danger of an explosion.

Coast Guard headquarters admitted, however, that the Hamachidori was not much help in fighting the oil fire because it did not carry chemical fire-fighting equipment. It poured water on the tanker in an attempt to help.

Coast Guard headquarters dispatched seven other patrol boats, a helicopter and an airplane in an attempt to help the flaming ship.—UPI.

ON THE HOUSE

Bookmaker Arthur Browning was so charmed by visiting Hongkong film star Ting Hung at Roshill, Sydney, last week, that he gave her £21 worth of free bets.

Miss Ting sent the hearts of hardened bookies fluttering. Her infectious marriage was uncontrollable even when her hooey (Alphie) failed to gain a place.

Her other bets. Now Duke in the Roshill Handicap, and Clan O' Gold in the Parramatta, went astray, too. But that did not spoil her day—her charm won smiles all round.

New Phone Cable Laid Across HK Harbour

The Colony's largest cross-harbour submarine telephone cable was successfully laid by the Hongkong Telephone Company engineers early this morning.

The 2,000-yard, 45-ton cable was laid between a point between Queen's Pier and the Star Ferry on Hongkong, and a point near the Police Pier in Tsimshatsui.

Mr Gordon Walker, chief cable engineer of the telephone company said this morning that the 50-minute operation went off quite smoothly, and was completed at 8.45 a.m.

He said it is the largest cable of its type to be laid across the harbour, and it was made especially for the HK Telephone Company by the British Insulating Callender Company.

The cable is 3 1/4 inches in diameter. The cable arrived in the Colony yesterday aboard the ss Benloval, and was loaded on to a cable-layer during the night.

Debutante Disappears

Newark, N.J., July 22. A pretty, 21-year-old debutante daughter of the executive Vice-President of Colgate Palmolive Co. vanished mysteriously today and police said they were looking for four youths with ducktail haircuts for questioning.

The police director, Joseph Weldon, told newsmen that the four youths were seen on a Newark airport observation deck about the time socially prominent Jacqueline Goy Hart disappeared after seeing her fiance off on a plane.—UPI.

The case against J. Babbs, of H.M. Prison Quarters summoned for dangerous driving, began before Mr A. J. Sangulnetti at Central Court this morning.

Summer Work Camp Playground To Be Built In Tsun Wan

The fourth Hongkong Eucumenical Work Camp will be held in the Chuen Yuen Primary School at Tsun Wan from Sunday, July 26 to August 22. About 25 young people from Thailand, Malaya, the Philippines, North Borneo, Okinawa, Japan, the United States, Burma, and Hongkong will attend.

The work project of this summer's camp will be to level and possibly develop a playground which adjoins the Chuen Yuen School. The playground is under the control of the Hongkong Government Resettlement Office, but the playground has been granted to the school to use. There are virtually no playgrounds in the area. Within a short time, multi-storied housing units providing living quarters for about 20,000 more people will be built only a few hundred yards from the site of the playground. "Then, pressure for a good recreation area will be even greater," said Mr Charles H. Blatchford of the Work Camp Committee, today.

Pakistan Forces

Washington, July 23. Pakistan is maintaining forces in excess of requirements thought necessary by United States Chiefs of Staff, according to a recent Congressional testimony disclosed today, Reuters.

He pleaded not guilty and was represented by Mr A.S.C. Comber, of Hastings and Company, on a subpoena M.R. Atkinson.

Lee On-hong, a driver living at No. 170, Wing Lok Street, ground floor, said that at about 2.40 a.m. on May 2, as he was approaching a pedestrian crossing on Wengneichong Road he saw an on-coming car travelling at a "very high speed."

Suddenly it shot across the road and hit his car, knocking it on its side. He was slightly injured on the right foot.

A minute or two later a European man opened his car door and helped him out. He was not the driver of the car, witness said.

When he got out of his car he saw another European sitting on a stoop on the opposite side of the road, and he was clutching his abdomen.

Recognition He pointed to the defendant and told the magistrate that this was the driver of the other car. When asked by Mr Comber how he recognized the defendant as the driver, witness said that he was told him that he was. Besides, defendant was injured on his upper lip, his right hand and his abdomen.

Witness also told the Court that the steering wheel of the other car was bent. Hearing is continuing.

Adult Education Display Begins

Art of high standard and products of fine craftsmanship are on display at the Adult Education Courses exhibition in the Yu To Sang School, Caine Road today.

This comprehensive and colourful presentation of work submitted by education and recreation centres, teachers' courses and evening classes for adults throughout the Colony was on preview from 10.30 this morning. The exhibition will be open to the public from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. today and tomorrow.

In the art room, eye-catching paper mosaics, designs for stained glass, textiles and architecture were among the more unusual exhibits. The colour photographs of the new type C process and photography in general were excellent.

PAINTINGS

Paintings of modern symbolism, surrealist and futuristic trends contrasted with delightful water colours, portraits and Hongkong's scenic beauties in oils. There were also designs based on plant forms and for interior decoration. Handwork from some 2,000 students attending 60 classes in 22 centres in the Colony who had submitted their finest embroideries, crochets, knitwear and handwork specimens was one of the largest displays.

Soft toys, cuddly, amusing and lifelike, included prancing ponies plied with bands and sequins, Raggedy Anne dolls and sprightly piggy porkers. Dressmaking and tailoring covered a wide range of Chinese and Western-style dress for all seasons, day and night-wear.

AMBITIOUS

Attractive puppets, paper sculpture, beautifully foiled leatherwork, modelling in plaster of paris and incense powder, pottery, flower-making, weaving and hand-printed fabrics were some of the handicrafts shown. The bookbinding excited admiration especially the books with tapestry and petit-point work covers.

Furniture in ambitious scope and variety for the home and office, showroom and nursery was another large exhibit.

The exhibition, which comprises work from Post-Primary Extension Classes, Teachers' Special Training Courses, Rural Literary Classes and general and practical background courses, is sponsored by the Department of Education. — J.D.

Government Officer Guilty

Mak Siu-ken, 40, a former secretary of the Resettlement Office, was found guilty by Mr I. T. Morris at Central Magistracy this morning on three charges of conspiracy and corruption.

The Magistrate deferred sentence until July 28.

The Prosecution stated that Mak had conspired with another secretary, Leslie Lok Chung-ling (who had been dealt with previously), to falsify particulars about two men stating that they were squatters living in huts at the King's Park Hill whereas they were living in permanent buildings. Mak had also received sums of money from the two men, for the purpose of recording false particulars.

Mak, in his evidence, denied the allegations of the Prosecution witnesses.

MAN ON DRUGS CHARGE

John Spencer, 30, of no fixed abode, was charged before Mr T. L. Yang at Central Magistracy this morning with possession of two packets containing 0.1 gramme of heroin. Pleading not guilty, Spencer said the charge was a "frame-up."

He said he was walking in the street when two policemen picked up two packets from the street and accused him of possessing them.

PC Wong Yu-keung testified that at 5 a.m. yesterday he was on beat duty with another officer in O'Brien Road when he saw the defendant emerging from O'Brien Road into Johnston Road.

He was halted and in his right hand were found two packets of powder.

The other officer gave corroborative evidence. Denying the allegation, Spencer said there was a third police officer, PC 61. He said a 3rd PC 61 who had questioned him and the other officers did not like his attitude when he was being searched.

Mr Yang adjourned the case until 2.15 p.m. for PC 61 to give testimony at the defendant's request.

ADJOURNED

The secret inquiry into alleged ill-treatment of inmates at the Cape Collinson Training Centre for boys, this morning was adjourned until Monday.

African Women Sent To Caol

Durban, July 22. Twenty-five African women were sentenced to six months' imprisonment here today for committing public violence at a beer hall near here last month.

Half their sentences were suspended for three years on condition they were not convicted of an offence involving violence committed during that time.

The magistrate also suspended for three years the passing of sentence on an 18-year-old girl who appeared with them. Two women in their sixties were sentenced to six months' imprisonment, but these sentences were suspended for three years.

Attorneys appearing for the defence said they had been instructed to lodge appeals on behalf of the women. Bail was set at £25 pending the appeal. —Reuter.

Britain And Russia Lead Atomic Power Race

UNITED STATES RUNNING POOR THIRD

London, July 22.

BRITAIN announced today that she and Russia are leading the world in the race to produce electricity from nuclear power stations, with the United States a poor third.

A United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority report, which was laid before Parliament today, said four British stations under construction will have a total output of 1,400 megawatts. Russian output will also be 1,400 megawatts from three large power stations now going up and from another now in operation in Siberia. Eleven power stations being built in the United States, the report said, will have a total output of only 900 megawatts. France will have two stations with a total output of 250 megawatts and Italy two with an output of 350.

Capital Costs
The report forecast that capital costs of power plants will fall by 20 per cent in Britain, and further falls will be possible as advanced type reactors such as high temperature gas-cooled ones come into operation. It hinted that Britain's much-vaunted "Zeta" machine scientists hoped might take the place of the H-bomb, was going to be scrapped.

Sir William Penny, the authority's member for scientific research, told a press conference, "We are finding Zeta extremely difficult to understand." He said a new machine is to be built in the hope of solving some of the problems of Zeta.

"We are still going on working on Zeta," he said.—UPI.

Hitch-Hikers In Trouble

Singapore, July 22. A Belgian girl and a Dutch youth have created a problem for their consular generals here and the Singapore immigration authorities.

The girl, Yvonne E. M. Dupuis, 25, met D. Sampon, 21, in Iraq and they decided to hitch-hike together.

The girl intends to get to Australia where she hopes to settle down. The Dutch youth has no definite plans. They claimed they stayed away on the Rotterdam Lloyd freighter Mississippi Lloyd from Calcutta and landed in Penang in north Malaya on July 14.

They hitch-hiked down the Malay Peninsula to Singapore where they gave themselves up to the immigration authorities.

CABLED
The immigration authorities contacted the Belgian and Netherlands consulates generally because the agents of the freighter would not undertake to send the couple back until it could be proved they actually did stay away from Calcutta on the Mississippi Lloyd.

The Belgian Consulate General cabled the girl's mother whose address was given as Saint Gilis, Brussels, and the Netherlands Consulate cabled the boy's father who is also living in the Belgian capital.

Both the hitch-hikers have no entry permit for Australia and it is certain they will both be sent back to where they came from but who is going to pay the passages is posing a big problem. Both consulates are waiting for word from the couple's respective parents.—UPI.

Churchill On Cruise

Nice, July 22. Sir Winston Churchill and Lady Churchill arrived here today by air from London and went immediately to Monaco to board the yacht Christina, a guest of Greek shipowner Aristotle Onassis and his wife.

Also aboard were the celebrated opera singer Maria Montserrat-Callas and her husband. The yacht was to set sail this evening for a three-week cruise around the islands of Greece.

After the cruise, the Churchills will spend about a month in a villa in southern France which is the property of Lord Beaverbrook.—APR.

All Calm In Iraq

London, July 22.

Diplomatic sources here today discounted reports of new or continued fighting in Iraq.

An official Foreign Office spokesman said the latest information received from the British Embassy in Baghdad, dispatched two days ago, said "all was calm" in both Baghdad and Kirkuk.

"If there had been renewed violence we would have heard of it," another source said.

Britain's Ambassador to Iraq, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, arrived from Baghdad last night to attend a meeting of British ambassadors to Arab countries. He will take a vacation following the three-day meeting.

Sir Humphrey would hardly have left his post had there been anything serious going on, one diplomatic source said.

These sources also said they "seriously doubt" that 850 persons had been killed in the Kirkuk clash, as reported by the United Arab Republic's Middle East news agency.

The Foreign Office spokesman said Iraq's Minister of Foreign Affairs had assured Britain there had been no injury or damage to persons or property among the 603 British subjects in Kirkuk.

"We have absolutely no reason to doubt his assurance," the spokesman said.—UPI.

Epstein's Christ 'Hideous'

London, July 22. A six-ton marble statue of Christ by Jacob Epstein was described here today as "hideous", "an inhuman monster" and like "a heathen idol by its grotesque size and ugliness."

Some 350 residents of the Yorkshire town of Selby successfully objected in a petition to a plan to erect the statue in the town and church warden to install the statue in the local medieval abbey.

The petitioners said the 11-foot-high statue of the suffering Christ, called "Ecce Homo" ("Behold the Man"), was "hideous in the extreme" and they suggested that the plan was mainly to attract visitors and get contributions for abbey funds.

One objection was that the statue did not give an impression of a human being but of some "inhuman monster."

OBJECTORS

The objectors had been heard at a consistory (ecclesiastical) court convened at Selby last month, and judgment was reserved.

"Today the reserved judgment in the dispute was given at the London law courts by the Chancellor (law officer) of the Diocese of York, Mr. W. S. Wiggin."

He said he had decided to reject the proposal to erect the statue because he was satisfied that a substantial body of opinion was against the idea.

There was a risk that approval might cause discord in the parish.—China Mail Special.

NEW ACT FOR THE CROSBYS

Claming that they're tired of being called "worthless, troublesome sons of a rich father", the four sons of singer Bing Crosby have formed themselves into a show business act. They paid $35,000 to hire a vocal coach, a dancing coach, writers and Press agents—but now they're booked on a round-the-U.S. tour at $30,000 a week, are asking £12,000 a week to play the London Palladium in September.—Express photo.

Elephant Upsets Alpine Village Protocol

Aiguebelle, July 22.

MAYORS and gendarmes from here to St Jean de Maurienne kept a watchful eye on their village fountains today, fearful of the playful ravages of a two-ton elephant with an alpine hot-foot.

The elephant, 12-year-old "Jumbo" of the Turin zoo, lumbered through her third day of re-enacting Hannibal's march across the Alps.

Special Blankets

The frisky elephant came prepared for cold weather. Special blankets were made to protect her from the mountain chill.

But so far the mountains have not been chilly, and Jumbo has run into the problem of hot asphalt under her tender feet—something that Hannibal never had to worry about.

At every mountain stream and village fountain along the way yesterday, Jumbo dipped in her trunk, took a good long drink and sprayed herself.

In addition to the heat, flies were bothering the young elephant. Trainer Ernesto Gobold rode part of the way on Jumbo's back, dousing her with DDT powder from time to time.

On the final leg of the day's trip to Aiguebelle, the heat of the road began to upset Jumbo.

By-passed

When the party, professor, trainer and Cambridge students reached the centre of the village, Jumbo ignored protocol, by-passed the officials waiting to read a greeting, and plunged bodily into the town fountain.

Trumpeting gleefully, she splashed water in all directions and aimed a deliberate spray from her trunk at the village cure, officials reported. Jumbo had done so damage.—UPI.

RUSSIA AND POLAND TO BACK EAST GERMANY

Warsaw, July 22.

Russia and Poland announced tonight they would back East Germany in measures to "liquidate the abnormal situation in West Berlin" if this were not done by other means.

She Weeps As Head Is Shorn

Rome, July 22.

Italian film star Silvana Mangano wept tonight when her head was shaved to prepare her for a part turned down last week by Gino Lollobrigida.

Miss Mangano begins shooting here tomorrow in the title role of the Italian production "Jovanka and the Others," a film about wartime girl collaborators in Yugoslavia who have their hair shorn by partisans.

Miss Lollobrigida withdrew from the part, saying she needed rest after a year's strenuous filming in Spain and Hollywood.

Miss Mangano's husband, Dino de Laurentiis, who is producing the film, watched with 30 photographers as the barber set to work.—Reuter.

Highway Robbery

Charlotte, N.C., July 22.

State police reported tonight some embarrassment yesterday the theft of $12 in coins from a vending machine in the barracks of the state highway patrol.

The only patrolman in the barracks slept peacefully through the robbery, sometime Monday night.—UPI.

Britain's Saucer To Cross The Channel

London, July 23.

Britain's "Flying Saucer" will attempt to skim across the English Channel from Dover to Calais on Saturday, the Daily Express reports today.

The newspaper says that the revolutionary craft, which rides on a cushion of air created by jets, is expected to make the crossing in 50 minutes.

Saturday is the fiftieth anniversary of Frenchman Louis Blériot's first flight across the Channel.

Sea ferries take about 10 minutes for the journey.

Demonstration

The "Flying Saucer," officially the Saunders Roe Hovercraft, has been built with the help of the government's National Research Development Corporation.

Saturday's flight, says the Daily Express, is to be a demonstration of its "revolutionary potential for carrying heavy weights at high speed."

It could clear the way for "100-ton cross-channel ferries carrying 300 passengers at 120 miles an hour."

According to the newspaper's test pilot, Peter Lamb, completed a final trial over the Solent last night. He plans to cross the channel 11 inches above the surface.

Ignore Docks

Mr Lamb is quoted as saying he will skim gently over the rougher waves.

At Calais he will "ignore the rocks, ride straight on over the beach and put down just where he feels like it."—Reuter.

Mass Grave Uncovered In Copenhagen

Copenhagen, July 22.

A mass grave with hundreds of skeletons has been uncovered during sewer excavations in Copenhagen.

Only two feet below street level, a three-foot layer of human skulls and bones covering several hundred feet were found by pipe-line workers, mused as if the burials had taken place in a shelter during wartime.

BURIAL PLACE

As the site does not correspond to any known burial place the mass grave is believed to be the unknown cemetery for paupers, criminals and victims of plagues from the 16th Century.

Due to the dry soil, the skeletons are well preserved and almost all the skulls carry teeth in excellent condition.

A collection of the best preserved skulls and bones has been set aside for further studies, and the rest will be buried in a new mass grave at a Copenhagen cemetery.—UPI.

She Weeps As Head Is Shorn

Unconditional

The 10-page statement called for a summit conference and for the unconditional banning of atomic weapons. It accused West German "militarists" of attempting to dominate Europe to develop again the expansion which in the last 50 years twice plunged the world into the disaster of war.

The first impression of the Soviet-Polish declaration in Western quarters in Geneva tonight was that Mr. Khrushchev wishes to write off the Geneva conference and pass on to summit negotiations.

Western officials declined all formal comment in absence of the full text. It was thought likely the Western Ministers would closely scrutinize the declaration when they meet tomorrow for a normal pre-conference discussion on the day's tactics.

Diplomatic observers said the Soviet Union considers a summit meeting as already agreed on and in the Russian view there should be no difficulty in convening one.

Deadlocked

But the United States, though probably agreeing to write off the deadlocked Geneva conference quickly, would not under present circumstances go to the summit, judging from Washington reports. The United States demands sufficient progress at Geneva to justify a summit meeting and in the American analysis such progress has not been made.

Observers noted the relatively tough language in the Soviet-Polish declaration. In some Western circles it was thought this was a reflection of a tougher attitude by Washington over the Geneva negotiations on Berlin and Germany in the last few days.

An element of threat appeared to be present in the declaration when it pledged Soviet and Polish support for East Germany over measures which East Germany "may recognize as appropriate within the framework of her sovereign rights to liquidate the abnormal situation in West Berlin."

Criticism

This suggested that if any steps are applied against West Berlin and the Western allies on their access routes, this would be taken by East Germany and not by the Soviet Union.

The severe criticism of the Western Powers was regarded by observers as preparation to apportion blame on the West for failure of the two-month-old Geneva conference to reach concrete results.—Reuter.

German Scouts Lost

Jamboree City, P.I., July 22. "We do not know where the German contingent has got to," Mr. William Quasha, deputy camp chief at the 16th World Boy Scouts Jamboree, said here today.

"They told us they were heading a 10-member delegation and so far we have had no word from them," he said.

Mr. Quasha said special arrangements had been made for their leader, Mr. Paul Koend, who is a member of the Boy Scouts International Committee, but Jamboree officials did not know where he was.—Reuter.

KATE DALRYMPLE GETS THE VIEWS

The annual invasion of England has begun. Into London this week have come hordes of Americans and Europeans to take a look at our fog, our traditions and even our clothes.

I picked three chic visitors to the city, one French, one Italian, and one American, took them out to lunch, and asked them to give me their unvarnished opinions on the way English women dress.

DANIELLE BOULONGNE, a vivacious Parisienne who is toying with the idea of coming to a model (modelling is "tres snob" in France just now) was bemused by our choice of colours. ENRICA TEREZIANI, from Milan, could not understand how we picked our clothes, and ANNE MILLAR, a model from New York, thought our necessities let us down.

THE FRENCH GIRL SAID: "Why do the English wear those petticoats with hoops in them which make them look like walking cabbages, and why do they choose such long skirts? I also think they choose terrible colours—I saw a woman today in a pink suit with an orange blouse."

But she praised our sweaters, and told me that a tweed and a single row of pearls, county-fashion, are very popular in Paris at the moment.

THE ITALIAN GIRL SAID: "Why do English people always choose clothes that are so dull and practical? Why don't they buy something pretty, or amusing, instead of a dress that won't show the dirt. And why do they wear flowered fabrics?"

In town, when stripes or spots look so much smarter."

That she liked the way we wore our hair, and said she thought we dressed much better than when she was over here two years ago.

THE AMERICAN GIRL SAID: "Why don't English women smarten up on accessories? In America everyone wears gloves. We find wrist-length shorties look custom-made. And why do so many office girls look badly-groomed? A white collar should be crisp-looking, not limp and yellowish. But here I think your laundry service lets you down. In the States we can get things laundered overnight."

But she liked our cheap casual shoes, and planned to take home six pairs of one style, all in different colours. Recalling from these candid criticisms, I asked them what was currently in fashion in their home cities.

THE ITALIAN GIRL TOLD ME: "This year, it is the fashion to wear hand-painted beach clothes. They are made from heavy denim, and have tropical scenes drawn on them. I have one done by Ludovica Felloni. She uses a special dye so that the cloth can be washed without the design coming off.

"For autumn we're all going for the English look, with tailored wool suits, sturdier shoes with lower heels."

THE FRENCH GIRL TOLD ME: "We're wearing white now, even on the beach. It is part of a trend towards the romantic look in clothes. We choose old-fashioned fabrics like Broderie Anglaise or lace and make them up into simple, full-skirted frocks with very, very tight waistlines. Just before I left Paris I bought myself a very wide belt in plastic with a gold finish that makes it look just like gold kid. They are very popular at the moment."

THE AMERICAN SAID: "We're all tired of being fashion freaks and have gone back to the American woman's uniform—the shirtwaist dress. But it is tricked out with all sorts of new ideas—wide, cut-away collars, for instance, pleated cummerbunds instead of belts, and lots and lots of petticoats underneath."

"We've swung right away from bright colours, and have fallen for somber shades, especially 'pale black' which is, of course, nothing more than a very dark grey."

Mr. Punch Reveals A Secret

—Mary-Jane Hears How To Be An Actress—

By MAX TRELL

MARY-JANE, the Rag Doll, called over to Knarf and Hanid, the Shadow Children with the Turned-About Names. She was sitting in the corner of the bookcase, at the spot where it touched the wall. It was a dark, quiet place.

"I wanted to ask you something," Mary-Jane said when Knarf and Hanid came over to her.

Can I Be An Actress? "Do you think I can ever become an actress?" said Knarf. "You're only a Rag Doll!"

"I'm afraid he's right, dear," agreed Hanid. "Actresses have to act. They have to stand up and say things and move around and dance."

"Oh dear! Oh dear!" Mary-Jane kept saying. "I'm sorry you have to be disappointed," said Hanid.

"It's no use your trying to be anything else but a Rag Doll," said Knarf.

Someone Called Knarf and Hanid were about to walk away when somebody called over from the other side of the room. It was Mr. Punch. He had been taking a nap in his chair under the sunny window.

"Did I hear somebody say she wanted to be an actress?" Knarf said. "Mary-Jane wanted to be an actress, but we told her she couldn't be one."

"Here, young lady," said Mr. Punch to Mary-Jane. "Just come over here."

Helped Her Walk Knarf and Hanid helped Mary-Jane to her feet. She linked her arms with theirs as they walked across the room. Mary-Jane couldn't walk by herself.

"So you want to be an actress?" Mr. Punch asked the Rag Doll when she stood in front of him.

"Oh yes," replied Mary-Jane. "Do you think I could ever be one, Mr. Punch?"

Mr. Punch looked around very carefully to make sure that no one was listening. Then he winked and said in a low voice: "There's one thing you must do and then it won't be hard at all for you to become an actress."

"What do I have to do?" cried Mary-Jane delightedly.

Once more Mr. Punch looked around, then he whispered:

Ceilings Have New Role In Decorating Scheme

By ELEANOR ROSS

The color of a ceiling has become a matter of importance when doing a room.

There was a time when ceilings were painted white as a matter of course. Then some pioneers tried painting them just a shade lighter than the walls. But now all this has changed.

Too Much Sun If overbright rooms, where there is too much sunshine, decorators advise painting ceilings to absorb color and so protect the eyes. Conversely, if the room is too dark—if windows are small and shadowed by adjoining windows or heavy foliage—you'll do well to consider the amount of light reflected by a color before deciding on the ceiling's hue.

White, of course, tops the list. It reflects at least 80% of the light that falls on it.

Light ivory has a 70% rating, while apricot-beige and lemon yellow have lower ratings. Light buff reflects about 55% while peach, salmon and light pearl gray are still farther down the scale.

Apple Green Pale apple green scores around 50% and medium gray has 5% less. Both light green and pale blue have a rating around 40% and deep rose, with 15%, is next to dark green which has less than a 10% rating.

To make sure that light is reflected evenly, so that there are no highlights, it's wise to use flat paints on the ceilings of rooms except the kitchen and bathroom. In these rooms, however, where walls, woodwork and ceilings are more frequently washed, it's better to apply a gloss or semigloss to all surfaces.

Sound Absorbers There is still another way in which ceilings can serve you these days. As sound absorbers, glass walls and picture windows sometimes brings the problem of excess noise—from TV, from lively conversation. Sound bounces from the hard surface of glass as well as from the floor coverings.

Heavy draperies, upholstered pieces and deep carpets absorb sounds. However, many modern rooms do not contain sufficient sound-absorbing materials, so sometimes used to solve this problem.

Treated Ceilings These treated ceilings should be painted very carefully so that the sound-trapping cells are not bridged or closed and the acoustic properties impaired. Painting the sound-absorbing tile can be done successfully with a brush, a spray gun and deep rose, with 15%, is next to dark green which has less than a 10% rating.

To make sure that light is reflected evenly, so that there are

Two More World Records At Tokyo

Swimming Match

JAPAN TEAM WIN 800 METRES FREESTYLE RELAY IN 8 MIN 21.6 SECS

Rose Betters Existing 800m Mark

Tokyo, July 22.

Japan's powerful swimmers set a new world record of 8 mins 21.6 secs minutes in the 800-metre freestyle relay today to break a 38-38 tie and defeat the United States team 41-38 in their three-day dual meeting.

The Japanese team won by 10 metres as a crowd of 8,000 at the 50-metre outdoor Meiji pool in Tokyo went wild. The Japanese team was composed of Toshizo Umemoto, Tatsuo Fujimoto, Makoto Fujui and Tsuyoshi Yamanaka.

The Japanese broke the existing world record of 8:23.6 established by an Australian team of Keith O'Halloran, John Devitt, Murray Rose and Jon Hendricks in 1956.

The American team of Allan Somers, Jeff Farrell, George Breen and Mike Troy clocked 8:31.2.

The new world record was the second set today and the fourth of the Tokyo meeting. Earlier today Australia's Murray Rose, swimming as a guest, cracked John Konrad's existing record of 9:08.6 for the 800-metre freestyle with a time of 9:08.6.

Japan's Yamanaka, who placed second to Rose in today's 800-metre freestyle, also beat the record with a time of 9:08.7.

Actually Konrad has an even better mark up for recognition as a new world record. He swam the 800 in 8:59.6 in January, although it has not yet been approved as a world record.

In the concluding relay event, Somers finished the opening 200-metre leg three-quarters of a length ahead of Japan's Umemoto. But Fujimoto erased the US lead and finished the next 200 metres one-and-a-half lengths ahead of Farrell.

The Japanese team had a timing of 4:14.6 for 400 metres. Breen splashed water high into the air with his chopping stroke but was unable to cut the

American Women Athletes Lazy And Snobbish

Philadelphia, July 22. Bobbie Banek, Bonnellville, former Olympic gymnast, said today the American women were defeated in the U.S. versus U.S.S.R. track meeting last weekend because American girls have a "touch of laziness complicated by a dash of snobbishness."

Bobbie, who led the eight-girl U.S. team that won third place in the 1948 Olympics in London is now engaged in a fight against multiple sclerosis. She was named "the world's most perfect woman" 20 years ago.

"The American woman is used to taking the car to go around the block and there's nothing we have to do that requires physical exertion," Bobbie said. "If our national idol were a javelin thrower or a shot-put star instead of a movie star, we'd have more than a handful of girls worthy of trying out for an international meeting.—UPI.

The Japanese and American swimmers shared first places with eight each in the quadrennial contest, just as they did in 1956 when the Japanese won by a 44-35 score. This year's victory was the fourth in five such contests for Japan.

The underdog Japanese defeated the Americans largely because they swept the first three places in the 200-metre freestyle and the 100 and 200-metre breaststroke to score 10 points against none by the Americans.

Twenty-year-old Yamanaka, Japan's Olympic hope for the Rome Games in 1960, was the big star of the meeting. He was a triple winner in individual events and a member of the victorious 800-metre relay team.

The Waseda University student set a new world record of 2:02.3 in the 200-metre freestyle, clipping seven-tenths of a second from the mark he established last year. He was also credited with first place in the 1,500-metre freestyle, although Murray Rose has the year's best time of 17:45.5 for this event.

Yamanaka also achieved a long-held ambition by defeating Rose in the 400-metre freestyle with a time of 4:22.3, a new Japanese record. It was the first time Yamanaka had defeated the Australian in three 400-metre duels.

The Japanese dealt U.S. coach Willis Carey of North Carolina State College a staggering blow by capturing the 400-metre medley relay on the opening night.

Koji Hase (backstroke), Motoki Kikuchi (butterfly), Koichi Hasekura (freestyle) clocked 4:14 flat for a new Japanese record to upset Frank McKinney, Fred Munch, Lance Larson and Joe Alkire by a scant four-tenths of a second.

Coach Casey, in the closing ceremony, congratulated coach Mitsuo Ota for the Japanese team's victory. Casey said he was impressed by the "wonderful hospitality in Japan, wonderful officiating, wonderful performances by the Japanese swimmers and wonderful crowds."

During the three-day match the Americans won the springboard diving, high diving, 200-metre butterfly and freestyle relay. In the latter event Elton Follett, Lance Larson, Jeff Farrell and Joe Alkire set a new world mark of 3:44.4.

Summary

During the three-day match the Americans won the springboard diving, high diving, 200-metre butterfly and freestyle relay. In the latter event Elton Follett, Lance Larson, Jeff Farrell and Joe Alkire set a new world mark of 3:44.4.

Machen Scores TKO Win Over Vargas

Portland, Ore., July 22. World heavyweight title contender Eddie Machen knocked down Vargas down for the count of eight here tonight and won a technical knockout victory after one minute and 55 seconds in the sixth round.

Machen, 107, peppered Vargas with a series of uppercuts and left crosses that sent Vargas to the canvas in the sixth round.

Vargas got up staggering and fell against the ropes before Machen removed his onslaught. Referee Ralph Gruman stopped the fight with Vargas's foot on the ropes.—UPI.

English County Cricket

Surrey Facing A Hard Fight Against Northants

London, July 22.

Surrey, back at the top of the county championship table, but weakened by injuries and Test match calls, lost their first four wickets for 51 against Northamptonshire today.

A fifth wicket stand of 49 between Eric Bedser and Tom Clark improved matters a little and with tail-enders Tony Lock, Jim Laker and Arthur McIntyre contributing 91 between them, the total reached 236.

Northamptonshire scored 53 without loss by the close and the champions are in for a hard fight tomorrow.

Warwickshire, who have played two more matches than Surrey but at the moment have the same number of points, gave an impressive batting display against Glamorgan at Neath, declaring at 347 for four.

Five Sixes

James Stewart, who hit five sixes and 13 fours, scored 155 in 4½ hours and shared a third wicket stand of 175 with Horner, who made 126 to lay the foundation of Warwickshire's success. Alan Townsend followed with a bright 48 not out.

Lancashire began well at Lord's against Middlesex with David Green and Alan Wharfedale making 53 for the first wicket but then the white slide was dismissed for the addition of a further 56 runs. Paucement John Warr claimed five wickets for 39 runs.

George Dews, 36-year-old Worcestershire veteran, came in at 81 for four against Kent at Maidstone and crunched 114 runs in the next two hours 50 minutes. His runs came out of 107 and he hit 10 fours to help Worcestershire total 265.

Dave Hallyard took six wickets for 58 runs in 28 overs for Kent who were 20 for one at the close.

Scores

Close of play scores in today's cricket matches were: At Maidstone: Worcestershire 265 (G. Dews 114, D. Hallyard six for 50). Kent 20 for one.

At Lord's: Lancashire 109 (J. Warr five for 39). Middlesex 127 for four (H. Gale 53).

Flying Dutchman Class Yachting Championships

London, July 22. The Netherlands yacht "Daisy", with Ben Verghen at the helm today broke the Italian monopoly in the "Flying Dutchman class" world yachting championships in outracing Mario Capin in "Alderman II" by 54 seconds.

Italy, however, remained far ahead in the overall standings at Whitstable Bay, Kent, South England. The Italians increased their lead from 602 to 778 points over Great Britain, while the Netherlands jumped from sixth to third place, 1,322 points behind Italy.

Britain's "Pandora", with Adrian Jardine at the helm, finished third today.

Two boats entered during today's third day of racing. The event ends on Saturday. One of the upset yachts, the Polish "Mamry", dropped out of the race, but the Swiss "Pousse-Moi IV" was righted by her crew and continued to finish 13th.—AFP.

World Epee Title For Russian

Budapest, July 22. Bruno Khabarov, 20-year-old Soviet fencer, won the epee title at the world championships here tonight, beating Britain's Allan Joy, 26, the world foil champion, 5-4 in a barrage.

Both had finished with six wins and one loss in the final pool.

Classification in the final pool was: 1. B. Khabarov (Ussr) 6 wins; 2. A. L. N. Jay (Britain) 6-1; 3. G. Delino (Italy) 4-3; 4. W. Glos (Poland) 3-4.—Reuter.

Strange-Looking England Team Take On India In Fourth Test Tomorrow

Manchester, July 22.

Several England players including Colin Cowdrey, the new captain, will be under close scrutiny in the fourth Test against India, which begins tomorrow at Old Trafford.

England have already won the rubber with three wins and two matches to play, but for many of the eleven the occasion may well prove to be the crossroads in their cricket destiny.

The absence of Peter May, through back trouble, not only breaks his long reign as captain since he took over from Sir Leonard Hutton in 1955 but provides an opportunity of testing Cowdrey's powers of leadership in representative cricket.

Thin Bowling It is a strange-looking England team, for it contains only three of the 17 men originally chosen to tour Australia last winter—Cowdrey, Trueman and Swalesman—though Dexter and Mortimore went there later.

With Statham and Loader not chosen the bowling looks very thin: it rests on Trueman, Rhodes and Dexter (seam) and Mortimore and Millworthy (off-spinners). There is no slow left-hander, nor a leg-break bowler, unless Ken Barrington is pressed into service.

Apart from Cowdrey, all the batsmen are on trial. The two openers, the left-handed Pullar, playing on his home ground, and Parkhouse, have a chance to confirm the good impression they made at Headingley.

M. J. K. Smith, Warwickshire captain, has enjoyed phenomenal success this month, scoring 1,015 runs. He did not succeed a year ago when England asked him to go in first but he should bat at number four this time and do sufficient to book himself a passage on the boat for West Indies later in the year.

Back in 1930, India put up one of their best performances at Old Trafford when V. M. Merchant (114) and Mushtaq Ali (112) began the second innings with an opening stand of 235. A little of the dashing spirit those two showed then would give impetus to the men Datta Gaekwad now leads.

The Teams

England: M. C. Cowdrey (Capt.), (Kent), B. A. Pullar (Lancashire), W. G. A. Parkhouse (Glamorgan), M. J. K. Smith (Warwickshire), K. Barrington (Surrey), E. R. Dexter (Sussex), R. Illingworth (Yorkshire), R. Swalesman (Surrey), J. B. Mortimore (Gloucestershire), F. S. Trueman (Yorkshire), H. J. Rhodes (Derbyshire), T. Twelfth man: J. (Yorkshire).

India: D. K. Gaekwad (Capt.), P. Roy, J. Contractor, A. A. Baid, P. Umrigar, C. G. Borda, R. G. Nadkarni, P. G. Joshi, S. P. Gupta, Surendra Nath, R. B. Desai. Twelfth man: J. M. Gharpade.—AFP.

The winners of the Victoria Cantonment six-a-side hockey league were virtually decided last Thursday when Pay 'B' met and defeated BMH Hongkong by four goals to one.

As so often happens with this type of needle match the hockey served up was not of a particularly high standard. This was offset by the enthusiasm displayed by both teams, plus the whole-hearted support by both sets of spectators.

Pay 'B' were first to go into the attack, and were soon on goal. This all-important goal was scored by McCormick. BMH Hongkong were not to be denied, however, and Sullivan soon levelled the score. By half-time the score was one all, and everyone was keyed up for the battle royal.

McCormick soon put Pay 'B' back into the lead, and from then onwards it was all Pay. By the time the final whistle blew, Pay 'B' had increased their score to four without any reply from the 'Medics'.

BMH Hongkong were not at top form, and it was very noticeable that Sullivan missed at least three penalty-bullets—a most unusual occurrence. If these had been converted there is no doubt that the game would have gone in favour of BMH Hongkong.

Hat-Trick

McCormick got himself a very nice hat-trick, and was mainly responsible for these two very valuable points.

Interest was then centred on the struggle for runners-up position in the league.

The second game of the evening resulted in a win for Provost by six goals to two against Headquarters Land Forces.

Drealey scored five of his side's six goals, and was always a potential threat to the opposing side.

Once again HQLE were below full strength, but this did not detract from the very good display put up by the 'Policemen'.

With duties always to the fore it is difficult for HQLE to turn out the same team twice running. But this does not detract from the fact that they can always be relied upon to turn out a full team, and even give their opponents a hard fight.

Two further games were played on Friday evening and in both games the standard of hockey was quite good. Pay 'A' defeated RE 'B' by three goals to one, but they certainly had to go all out to win. At one stage it looked as though the 'Sappers' were going to cause a minor upset, and it was only the superior play of Pay 'A' that averted this.

An Upset

In the second game No. 1 Sqd HK Sig Regt, in spite of being without Archer, and only playing five men, upset RE 'A' by five goals to four.

Going flat out from the start, 'Signals' were soon in the lead, and went on increasing their goal tally up to half-time. By the time the breather came they were in the lead by four goals to one.

RE 'A' were not going to take this lying down, and urged on by Crossweller and Quattrough, they gradually got back into the game. They crept up to 4-5, and then Millchip scored for No. 1 Squadron.

But the 'Sappers' weren't in the least daunted, and still kept trying for goals. By the final whistle they had added another goal, and were attacking furiously for the equaliser.

For the winners Bullard played a sterling game in defence, and certainly stopped a few certain goals on the goal line. Saunders (3) and Millchip (2) were the goal-

Very Fine Game

Tuesday saw the weather in our favour once again, and in the first game of the evening, BMH Hongkong defeated No. 1 Sqd HK Sig Regt by eight goals to four.

This was a very fine game indeed, and in spite of one or two very peculiar decisions 'Medics' certainly deserved to win.

Both Archer for 'Signals' and Sullivan for the 'Medics' were keen in the picture, and goals began to come at regular intervals. By half-time the score was 5-2 in favour of BMH, but No. 1 Sqd HK Sig Regt never gave up trying.

Urged on by Bullard, they started to fight back, and 'Medics' were certainly glad when the final whistle went. Sullivan as usual was among the goals, and his tally for this game was six very good goals.

The second game saw Camp Staff really being shaken by RE 'B', managing to win by only four goals to three. Both Lawrence and Bibby were prominent for Camp Staff, but as usual RE 'B' played together as a hard fighting team.

League Positions

League positions up to last Tuesday are as follows:—

	P	W	D	L	Pts
Pay 'B'	12	9	1	1	22
BMH HK	12	8	1	3	17
Provost	13	7	2	4	10
Camp Staff	11	6	3	2	15
Pay 'A'	12	6	2	4	14
RE 'A'	11	4	3	4	11
No. 1 Sqd HK Sig Regt	14	3	3	8	9
HQ Land	12	1	1	1	5
Forces	12	2	1	0	5
RE 'B'	12	0	1	1	1

It is hoped to start the Knock-Out Tournament on Friday, August 10. The entrance fee for this event will be $10 per team and Team secretaries are requested to notify the League Secretary by July 25 if they are desirous of entering teams.

The all-conquering Army Water Polo team continued on their winning way.

At Victoria Pool last Thursday evening they met and defeated the EXM by 11 goals to nil.

This game was certainly different from their previous one. All of the players played together, and the teamwork was very good indeed.

Highbottom in goal had little to do, but what he did have to do he did quite competently.

Fairclough (3), Collins (2), Greenwood (2), and Immes and Whitfield (one each), were the goal-scorers.

With only one game to go the Army team are assured of the championship of the second division. They still remain unbeaten, and with only the match against RAF to go they cannot be toppled off their perch.

Lieut W. N. A. King 1 LAN R (PWV) is to be congratulated on his very fine effort in the 1959 Standard-Bing Two Round Island Walkathon which took place on Saturday July 18.

When all the handicaps were worked out, King came in 7th position. A very fine effort indeed. His time for the complete course was 7 hours 58 mins 02 secs.

This event was again won by last year's winner, and although the time was a record King was always within striking distance.

It appears that this event took place with King and his crew, Lieut C. P. Adams R.N., keeping together all the way round.

King will no doubt be remembered for his many sports activities, and his efforts to overcome the eventual winner in last year's six miles walk. This was in the Combined Services versus Civilian Athletic Meet which took place at Boundary Street.

Chance For India

As for India, they could redeem their reputations. They have reinforced their batting by enlisting the help of Abbas Ali Baig, the 20-year-old Oxford Blue, who will be making his Test debut. He is a grand stroke-maker and a natural cricketer.

They will welcome the return of Contractor. A left-hander, he showed his fighting qualities at Lord's where he batted for four and a quarter hours in the second Test with a cracked rib while making 81.

EVERY MAN WAS A DRUM MAJOR

By ELIZABETH FOX

WHILE the spectators watched with their hearts in their mouths in case anyone should drop anything, the crack team of American Marines went through the most complicated drill manoeuvres flinging rifles with fixed bayonets around as though they were golf clubs.

We'd already had one lot of worry while the drummers detached themselves from the band and stood in a little group gully swapping sticks with each other in mid-air.

In their buff uniforms, white helmets and pistol belts, scarlet music pouches and gold citation cords, these are the Band and Drill team of the 3rd Division of the United States Marines. And resounding epiphany from the audience, the only military display I've ever seen which made me want to rush off in the middle and do great deeds was brought to a close. The Band then sat down and gave a very good concert from "Colonel Bogey-a-la-Bridge-on-the-River-Kwai" to Jazz and Latin American music.

Composer King

Stationed in Okinawa the Band has been travelling around on its own troupe, the Howie's, and has already been to Bangkok and Manila giving displays, before visiting Hongkong.

While in Thailand, the Band played for the first time in public: the Royal Thai Marine Corps. Hyman which was composed by the King. It was during

The Band Master and Drum Major is Master Sergeant H. L. Peters who was doing splendid twirlings and wavings with his tall baton marching in front of the Band at the display. He comes from California, is married and has two young sons. Musically minded since the age of 12, Nat Peters has many music trophies to his name and once won 12 out of 12 state and national competitions.

Fabulous

The American troops stationed in the Pacific often come here for their leaves and both Capt. Burch and Chuck have been here before and think it fabulous. "What city in the world is more fabulous than Hongkong?" they wanted to know.

I asked them if they'd climbed to the top of the Peak or anything while they'd been here. "I climbed to the top of the Peak in '35," said Capt. Burch, "but never again—once is enough in a lifetime!"

The Howie's and the Marines are now on their way back to Okinawa where, although "music comes second" they still find time to perform for thousands of children and hundreds of public appearances a year throughout the Far East.

Rolling On

London, July 22.
Bob Hope said the Monte Carlo course he played last week was fine one.

"The fairways are so hard the ball just kept on rolling like it was trying to get back to the factory," he said.

But Hope said he had another problem. He played with his friend, the Rev. Padre Exman, and "I've got a crick in the neck through having to turn my head every time I want to swear."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Under Fire

Sir—Tui, Tui, Mr Leo Tak Wah, "A Globe Trotter." I am really surprised at your getting down to personalities, and so hot under the collar over me. So you are a student of psychology, are you? How interesting! My letter of July 21, in reply to yours of July 19, certainly contained no such suggestions as you have made with regard to the running of the Tourist Association.

I certainly have no intention of jumping from Marina House—unless I was pushed over. If that happened I do hope there would be some kindly people to pick up the pieces. In any event, thanks to the tax-payers, the police and ambulance would be doing their duty.

And, you, Mr Editor, I am equally surprised that you allow such vitriol contained in Mr Leo Tak Wah's letter to enter into your columns.
